Martin has recently been elected as the Chair of the Governing Board having previously served as a governor for the past 9 years. Prior to becoming a governor Martin served for 38 years in the Police Service, retiring in the rank of a Chief Superintendent. Both of Martin's late parents were teachers of long standing. He is committed to the ideal of public service and believes that being a governor allows the opportunity, in a voluntary capacity, to support and provide challenge to the Blue Coat School in its development and achievements.

As a governor, Martin has lead responsibilities for Health and Safety, Safeguarding, Staffing, together with a lead responsibility for a recent project all of which has given him clear insight into the operation of the school and its continual commitment to providing an excellent education for all its students.

Ken joined the Governing Body in December 2019. He is a graduate of the University of Liverpool and holds a Post-Graduate Diploma in Librarianship from Liverpool Polytechnic. Retired in 2013 Ken spent the majority of his career working in the public and higher education sectors, initially working for Liverpool City Libraries and moving to what was then Liverpool Polytechnic which was to eventually become the new Liverpool John Moores University. Ken worked in a variety of roles within the University's Library & Student Support Services Department including, Business Librarian, Learning Resource Centre Manager and finally as Head of Staff Services. In every role the focus was to deliver innovative and high quality services to staff and students. As part of the University's outreach programme Ken worked for a number of years with Liverpool Compact Education & Business Partnership regularly going into schools across the City to provide students with practical help and guidance on making job applications and how to handle job interviews. At times challenging work but always interesting, there was a very real sense of satisfaction gained from helping young students to develop these important life-skills and enable them to achieve their full potential. Ken is currently working with the School's Development Office as a volunteer on "The Blue Coat for All" project, supervising a small team of volunteers developing the School's archive. He also volunteers as a "befriender" with the local charity Woolton Community Life, which works to combat loneliness in the community. Ken has a daughter who attended The Blue Coat for her Sixth Form studies and who currently works in the School's Development Office

Shirley has been employed by The Blue Coat School for 15 years and was elected as staff governor in 2016. Shirley has had considerable experience of school governance, having previously served as parent governor at a local primary school for 11 years. Shirley is a valuable support to the school's management support service, is a key provider of human resource support to staff and is the school's educational visits co-ordinator. Shirley is a significant contributor to the school's successful Duke of Edinburgh Award, supporting a large number of students each year. Shirley has gained an excellent knowledge and understanding of the school's systems and procedures and how these are used to enhance the educational experience of students. She brings a valued perspective to the governing body as both a parent of a student and as an employee.

Cath joined the Governing body in 2015 and is currently the lead for Admissions and SEND and Chair of the MAT Project Board. Cath meets regularly with senior leaders to ensure that the Admissions process runs smoothly and that, as a minimum, statutory requirements of Special Needs provision are met. Cath is a graduate of Liverpool University and has a Master's degree in Public Service Management from the University of York. She spent many years in operational management in various Civil Service departments, including the Department for Trade and Industry and the Department for Work and Pensions and has also spent time on secondment to Liverpool City Council, heading up a team to improve access for local people to city centre job opportunities. Cath is now employed as a teacher of English as a foreign language at an international college in Liverpool, working with students from various countries to develop their language and study skills to enable them to enter a UK university. In 2014, she was appointed as a magistrate and currently sits in the Adult Crime courts in Cheshire. Cath has two children, both of whom attended the Blue Coat School sixth form.

Phil has been an active member of the Governing body since 2012 and is lead governor for finance and resources. He regularly meets with senior leaders to ensure a high level of awareness of statutory guidance and to develop a clear understanding of financial provision, process, practices, and systems and provide challenge to senior leaders. Phil had a successful 34-year career in banking, culminating as Barclay's Area Manager for North Liverpool with overall responsibility for teams managing personal, small business and corporate business. Phil later joined FCA registered Merseyside Special Investment Fund as Mezzanine Fund Manager, making loan and equity investments to small and medium sized businesses. After retirement in 2014, Phil remains a member of their Investment panel, the decision making body for the approval of investments. The school and governing body benefit enormously from Phil's considerable skills, knowledge and experience.
